
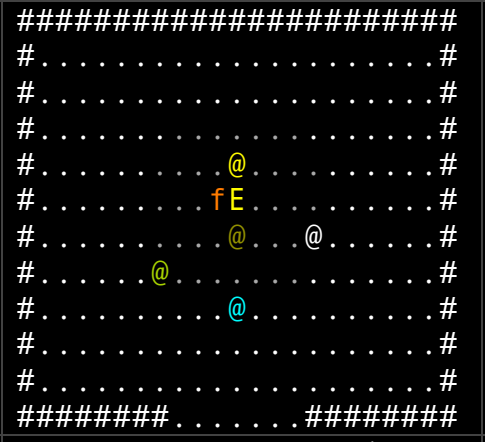
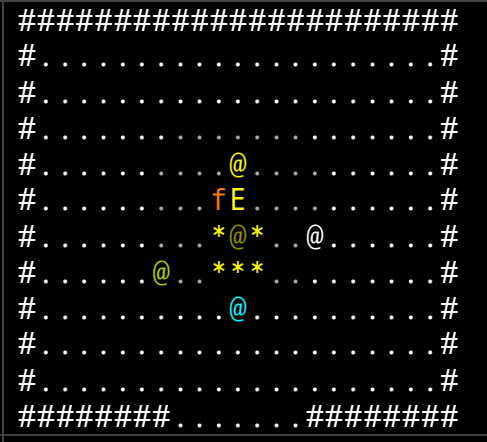
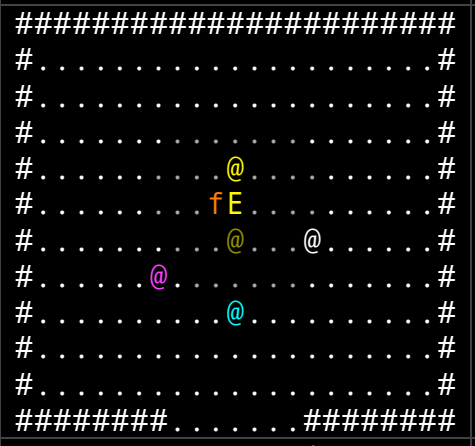
•This is Murmur. He's like Ragnaros's second cousin or something.



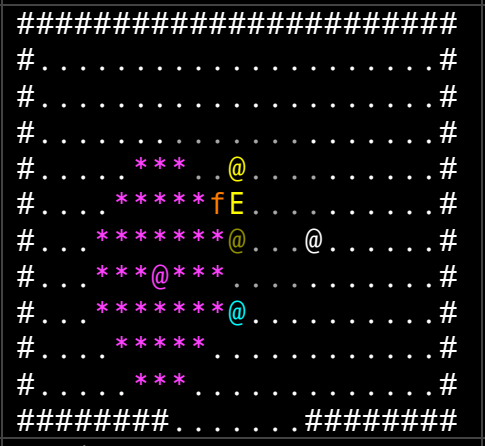
•He's the Incarnation of Sound. That is, he's noisy and also fifty feet tall.



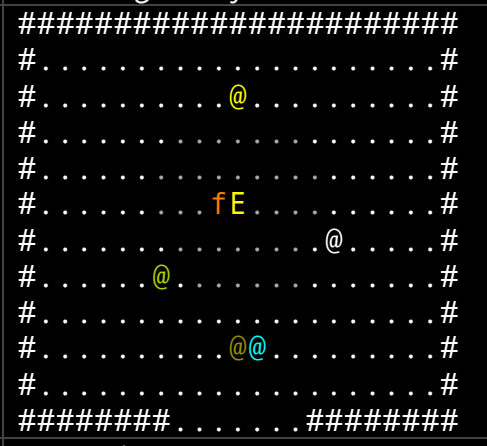
•It makes sense at first, but why would he need that gigantic mace if he could just blow out your eardrums and collapse the cave ceiling on you?



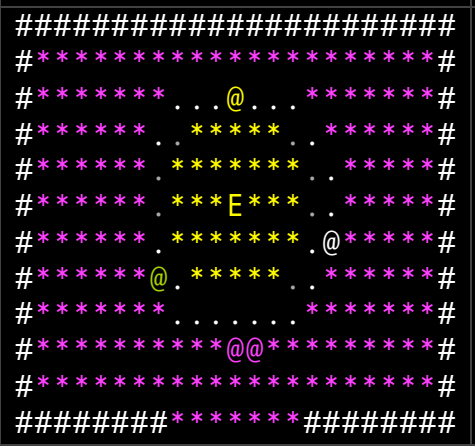
•Anyways. He will sometimes make someone a bomb.



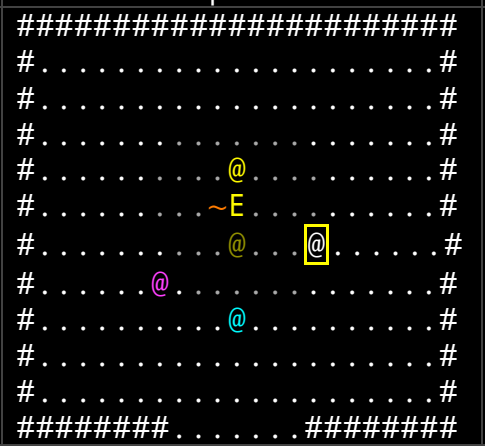
•Failure to move away from your party will result in pain



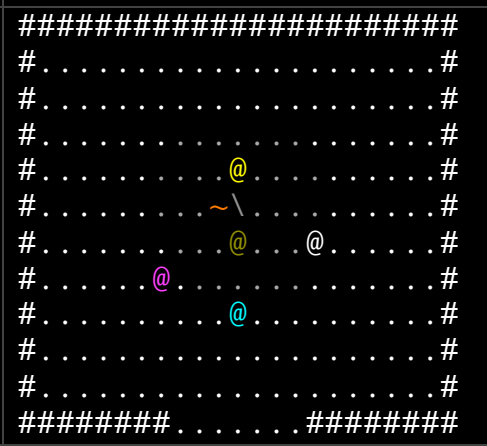
•He will also periodically explode



•On Heroic this is bad because he also owns you if you run away



•Basically you have to hope your healer is a freaking badass



•And don't get crushed by the falling mace when he dies!